THE FAMILY OF BALTHASAR GLEIM, OF ESCHWEGE

b y

Milton Rubincam, F.A.S.G.,
6303 - 20th Avenue, Green Meadows,
West Hyattsville, Maryland.

CHRONOLOGICAL NOTE:

In the following genealogy of the family of Balthasar Gleim, of Eschwege (afterwards Pastor of Wanfried), the German date system has been used for the period before 1700. The Julian Calendar was in force in Hessen before February 1700. As our Hessian investigator, Herr Kurt Holzapfel, recorded the dates in figures, it was deemed advisable to follow his example and not run the risk of providing erroneous dates. Thus, 17.VII.1644, does N O T mean July 17, 1644, but September since that month was the 7th month under the Old Style Calendar. For the few dates that are given for the period following February 1700, when the Gregorian (or New Style) Calendar was adopted, the months have been written out.

THE FAMILY OF BALTHASAR GLEIM, OF ESCHWEGE

The family of GLEIM (spelled variously in the records as GLYM, GLYME, GLIEM, GLIEME) is one of the oldest families of Eschwege, on the Werra River, 28 miles southeast of Kassel, in the present State of Hessen, American Zone of Germany. At the time of which we write (15th-17th centuries) it was located at different times in the Landgraviates of Hessen-Kassel and Hessen-Rheinfels, and for a time in the 17th and again in the 13th centuries it was the capital of the tiny Landgraviate of Hessen-Eschwege.

Early members of the family included: KONEMUND GLYME, a member of the Town Council (Ratmann) who was mentioned in a document of the Augustinian Monastery at Eschwege on 25 November 1425; TYLE GLYME, Councillor in 1436; HERMANN GLYME, mentioned in 1437; and the following persons who occupied the office of Schultheiss (Magistrate) --- LOTZE, 1459; HANS, 1490-1520; HEINRICH, 1490; HERMANN, 1495; and ENGELHARD GLEIM, of Niederhone, 1502.

In 1610 there were five families of the name at Eschwege divided according to their occupations, as follows:

- (1) Lohgerberzweig (Tanner Branch); (2) Schneiderzweig (Tailor Branch); (3) Tuchmacherzweig (Clothworker Branch); (4) Schusterzweig (Shoemaker Branch); and (5) Fuhrmannszweig (Wagoner Branch) (1).

The famous Prussian poet, JOHANN WILHELM LUDWIG GLEIM, was descended from BERNHARDUS GLEIM, a Councillor and wine merchant of Eschwege. The latter's son, LAURENTIUS, Burgomaster of Werben, in the Altmark (Old Mark) of Brandenburg, was the father of LAURENTIUS GLEIM (died 1678), Burgomaster of Seehausen in the Altmark. His son, JOHANN LAURENTIUS GLEIM (1676-1763), removed from Seehausen to Ermsleben; by his wife, Gertrud Veil (her full name, rather, was Anne Gertrud Veil), he had about 12 children, of whom the 5th son and 8th child was JOHANN WILHELM LUDWIG GLEIM (1719-1803), graduate of the University of Halle, Secretary to Prince Wilhelm of Brandenburg-Schwedt and to Prince Leopold of Anhalt-Dessau (the celebrated "Old Dessauer"), and Secretary of the Cathedral Chapter of Halberstadt. He was an ardent admirer of King Friedrich II (The Great) of Prussia, whose campaigns inspired his most famous poems, Preussische Kriegslieder von einem Grenadier (War Songs of a Prussian Grenadier) (1758) (2).

The first proved ancestor of the family now under consideration was:

1. JACOB GLIME, who may have been a son of Jacob Glim, recorded as a citizen of Eschwege in 1536 and the owner of a forest at Schlierbach, who in turn may have been a son of Hans Glyme, known as Langehans (Long Hans), mentioned in

Eschwege records as early as 1507. Our Jacob was a Lohgerbermeister (Master Tanner) and was born ca. 1530. He was recorded as a householder at Eschwege in 1553. He had issue as follows:

2. Curt; see below.
3. Jacob; b. ca. 1575; Master Tanner, of Eschwege; m. 27.IV.1598, Martha Scheffer; property valued at 225 gulden in 1606; two daughters:- Catharina, married Burkhard Manegold; and Martha, married Johann Wagener.

2. CURT GLIEM (Jacob, 1) was born ca. 1565. He lived in a section of Eschwege known as Brühl, on a corner of the street called Flemmingsgasse. In 1606 his property was valued at 175 gulden. He was recorded as having grownup children in 1608. Issue:

4. Hans; see below.
5. Claus; mentioned as a godfather in 1610; his widow, Anna, was still living in 1657 with their son, Jost Gliem (3).

4. HANS GLIEM (Curt, 2) was a Master Tanner of Eschwege. He was born between 1590 and 1595, and before 1615 married a girl named ANNA SPILNER. In 1622 he was mentioned as living in the paternal house at Brühl, on the corner of Flemmingsgasse. He and his wife were both dead before 1640. Issue:

6. Baltzer (Balthasar); see below.
7. Hans; see below.
8. Cyriacus; see below.
9. Elsa; b. ca. 1625; m. 1649, Christian Beck; inherited the paternal house in Brühl; issue (surname Beck):- Anna Elisabeth and Margareta (twins), baptized 26.XII.1640 (Godmother: Lucas Schuchart's bride, Margreta Scheffer). (4)
10. Maria; b. ca. 1627; confirmed 1641; m. 18.V.1654, Heinrich Klercke; issue (surname Klercke):- Maria, baptized 14.III.1655 (Godmother: Christoffel Koch's Wife). (5)
11. Catharina; b. ca. 1630; confirmed 1644; m. 19.X.1652, Johannes Knieriem; issue (surname Knieriem):- Johann Caspar, bap. 12.X.1654 (Godfather: Hans Knieriem the Shoemaker's son). (6)
12. Bernhard; see below.

6. BALTZER (or BALTHASAR) GLEIM (or GLIEM) (Hans, 4) was born at Eschwege ca. 24.IX.1616 (figuring back from his age at death in 1675). On 9 April 1635, he was matriculated as a theological student at the University of Kassel; he was described in this record as "Balthasar Gleimius Esuicensis" (7).

The short-lived University of Kassel was founded early in the Thirty Years' War (1618-48) by Landgrave Wilhelm V of Hessen-Kassel, after the historic University of Marburg had been closed by the temporarily victorious forces of Hessen-Darmstadt. Kassel's institution of higher education existed until 1653, when the University of Marburg was restored to the control of Hessen-Kassel. The Professors of Theology under whom Gleim studied were the celebrated scholars, Johannes Crocius and Johannes Combach. He probably also studied under Georg Cruciger (1575-1637), who, after his expulsion from Marburg, became Professor of Theology, Hebrew, and Philosophy at Kassel, Dean of the Theological Faculty (July 1629), and Rector of the University (1637).

Our information concerning Pastor Balthasar Gleim is not as complete as we could wish. We do not know where he held his first positions after his graduation from Kassel, but the baptismal record of his nephew and godson, Balthasar (son of Cyriacus Gleim), reveals that he was Rector of the School at Rotenburg, on the Fulda River, by 1646. He was also a clergyman of the Reformed (Calvinist) Church of Hessen.

In 1650 Pastor Langius of Wanfried died, and many candidates applied for the vacant post. Until a choice was made, Pastor Heinrich Möller, of Grossburschla, filled the pulpit. Pastor Gleim was the successful applicant, and on 5-6 July 1650, he was formally installed as Pastor of Wanfried, on the Werra River, not far from Eschwege.

Gleim held this position for a quarter of a century. He witnessed interesting events centering around the little town on the Werra. On 25 July 1650, nearly three weeks after he had assumed the pastorate, information was received that the famous Swedish General and ally of Hessen-Kassel, Count Karl Gustaf von Wrangel, was approaching Wanfried; orders were issued to entertain his troops there. He arrived on 1 August, and in his honor a great public feast was held, at which not only his officers and men were present, but also the whole citizenry of the town.

In June 1652, the Werra overflowed its banks, causing considerable damage to warehouses and the merchandise stored in them. Two years later (15 February 1654), Marta Wirlingen was tried in the Town Hall on a charge of prostitution; her examination was conducted by the three top officials of the community, the Magistrate, the Pastor (Gleim), and the Burgomaster. An illustrious visitor to the Hessian dominions stayed for a short time at Wanfried in 1658. This was the Elector Johann Georg II, of Saxony, who, accompanied by a large retinue, was on his way to Kassel.

Wanfried had much to do with local royalty in those days. On 21 July 1667, Prince Georg of Hessen-Darmstadt was married there to Countess Alexandrine of Leiningen-Dagsburg. Although Gleim was the Pastor at Wanfried, he did not unite this couple in marriage, as they were converts to the Roman Catholic faith. A few years later, on 30-31 May and 1 June 1671, a 3-day festival was held in honor of the future Landgrave Carl of Hessen-Rheinfels-Wanfried and his first wife, Countess Sophia Magdalena of Salm-Reifferscheid (his second wife was Countess Alexandrine of Leiningen-Dagsburg, widow of the above-named Prince Georg of Hessen-Darmstadt).

The year 1672 was full of military movements with Imperial troops, Hessian forces, and the armies of Elector Friedrich Wilhelm of Brandenburg using Wanfried as a thoroughfare. This was the time of the Great Elector's plunge into the Dutch War against France, and Western Germany once more became a battlefield.

In the following year (1673) the town wall was built in the vicinity of Pastor Gleim's garden. He died two years later, and was buried at Wanfried, 23.XII.1675 (1675/6), aged 59 years, 12 weeks, 5 days.

On 17.VII.1644, Gleim married at Eschwege, ANNA MARGARETHA CROLLIUS, who was born probably at Nordenstadt, ca. 1624, and was buried at Wanfried, 3 May 1707, aged 83 years, 3 months, 6 days. Her father, Johannes Crollius (1599-1662), was a distinguished Hessian theologian. He was a graduate of the University of Marburg, and held the following positions: Schoolmaster at Langenschwalbach (Schwalbach), 1619-21; schoolmaster at Nordenstadt, 1621-29; Rector of the Eschwege School, 1629-34; Assistant Pastor at Eschwege, 1632-34; Dean and Court Preacher at Rotenburg, at the Court of Landgrave Hermann IV, of Hessen-Rotenburg, 1634-53; Metropolitan (Bishop) of Hersfeld, and Rector of the Hersfeld Gymnasium, 1653-62. In 1656 Crollius was associated with Johannes Hütterodt, Metropolitan of Eschwege, in the promulgation of the school regulations (Schulordnung) of Landgrave Wilhelm VI, of Hessen-Kassel.

Balthasar and Anna Margaretha (Crollius) Gleim had the following issue:

13. Catharina Juliana; b. at Rotenburg, ca. 1647; confirmed at Wanfried, 1661; d. at Eschwege, 22 Nov. 1722; m. at Wanfried, 8.VI.1669, Pastor Andreas Rübenkam. (See Table II)

He married (1) 27.XI.1643, Margaretha, widow of Philipp Kirchner, and (2) 2.XI.1657, Martha Klercke (baptized 19.VI.1626, died 19 Jan. 1703). Issue:

12. BERNHARD GLIEM (Hans, 4) was a Master Tanner of Eschwege. He was born ca. 1634, and died on 18.XI.1698. In 1660 he married Martha Breutigam, who was born ca. 1637 and died on 22.VI.1699. Issue:

- 35. Catharina Elisabeth; bap. 13.XI.1692.

14. PHILIPP GLEIM (Balthasar, 6) was baptized at Rotenburg, 25.XII.1649, and died there, 10.X.1694. He was matriculated as a theological student at the University of Marburg, 16 October 1667, but later switched to law and studied at the Universities of Bremen (1669), Hanau, and Helmstädt; he completed his legal training at the University of Erfurt in 1673 with his dissertation, De investitura feudali (On Feudal Investitures), printed at Erfurt by Johann Bernhard Herwig. In 1685 he became Judge of the Rotenburg Chancery and in 1690 a Chancery Councillor. In 1680 he married Anna Catharina, daughter of Dethard Uckermann, Burgomaster of Wanfried. He and his brother, Johannes Gleim, were godfathers of their nephew, Johann Philipp Rübenkam, in 1670. (3)

15. JOHANNES GLEIM (Balthasar, 6) was baptized at Wanfried, 15.IV.1653. He was matriculated at the University of Marburg, 5 November 1673. He succeeded his father as Pastor of Wanfried in the year 1676. He edited the following works:

Prophetische Todes-Post und Christl. Hausbestellung, d.i. eine christl. Leichpredig. aus Jes. XXXVIII,1. nach Beerdigung Georg Sebast. von Keudel, zu Schwebda, gewes. Gerichts- und Erbherrn auf Keudelstein, Grebendorf, etc. welcher 1681 den 20. Dec. auf seinem Hause Keudelstein verstorben und d. 16. Jan. 1682 zu Wanfried begraben (Prophetic Death --- Post and Christian Home Culture, that is, a Christian funeral sermon from Jes. XXXVIII,1, upon the interment of Georg Sebastian von Keudel, of Schwebda, Legal and Hereditary Lord of Keudelstein, Grebendorf, etc., who died at his Keudelstein home, 20 Dec. 1681, and was buried at Wanfried, 16 Jan. 1682) (Published at Mühlhausen, in quarto, 1682).

Des fürtrefflichen und hochgelahrten Herrn Thomä Alberthoma, vormahls Diener des göttl. Worts zu Gröningen, Richter in dem Paradies, in verschiedenenschönen und geistreichen Predigten vorgestellt; aus dem Niederländ. Übers. von Joh. Gleim, Prediger zu Wanfried; samt einer Vorrede Henr. Horchen, d.H.S. Doct. Prof. u. Pred. zu Herborn

(Of the Excellent and Very Learned Herr Thomä Alberthoma, formerly Servant of the Divine Word at Gröningen, presented in various beautiful and spiritual sermons; translated from the Dutch by Johannes Gleim, Preacher at Wanfried; together with a Foreword by Heinrich Horche, Doctor of Holy Writ, Professor and Preacher at Herborn) (Printed at Herborn, in quarto, 1694). (9)

Johannes Gleim was Pastor of Wanfried for 21 years; he died in 1697 and was succeeded by his nephew, Johann Philipp Rübenkam. Thus, representatives of the Gleim Family of Eschwege were the spiritual leaders of Wanfried for a period of 66 years, as follows:

(2) JOHANNES, Pastor

(3) JOHANN PHILIPP RÜBENKAM, Pastor of Wanfried, 1698-1716

Philipp (14) and Johannes (15) Gleim had children, but up to this writing the author has been unable to ascertain their names and dates. One of them certainly was the father of JOHANNES LAURENTIUS GLEIM, of Wanfried, who entered the University of Marburg in 1699, and it is certain, if we may judge by the name, that Philip (14) Gleim, who had married Dethard Uckermann's daughter, was the father of DETHARD PHILIPP GLEIM, of Wanfried, who commenced his studies at Marburg in the same year.

NOTES

A special note of indebtedness must be made to our principal investigator, Herr KURT HOLZAPFEL, Dipl.Ing., of Eschwege, State of Hessen, Germany (American Zone). Without his help and knowledge of source materials we would know very little about our pre-American ancestors. Since 1936 he has been assembling, on our behalf, a tremendous amount of information concerning the Hessian branch of the Rubincam-Revercomb Family, as well as of related families.

- (2) See the brief account of Johann Wilhelm Ludwig Gleim in The Encyclopaedia Britannica, 13th edition (1926), vol. XII, pp. 118-119. The present writer has assembled data which indicates (but does not prove) that the poet's brother, Johann Gotthelf Gottfried Gleim, was the Rev. John Gottleaf Godfrey Gleim who founded an American branch of the family in 1754 (Milton Rubincam, "Gleim", National Genealogical Society's Quarterly, Sept. 1941, p. 119). Lily Gleim Mentzer and Pearl Marie Trimmer, in Descendants of John Gottleaf Godfrey Gleim, pp. 17-21, 37-39, give a confused picture of the early generations of the family. The writer has annotated his copy of their little work, which is poorly arranged, but nevertheless is a useful work so far as the Gleim family of Lebanon and other parts of Pennsylvania is concerned.
